Event Report

Title: YOGA Day

Speaker: Prof.Rajendra Landge

Date: 08/04/2023

Participants: FE year students of NMIET

No. of participants: 322

Description: Yoga holds particular significance for engineering students due to the unique challenges they face in their academic pursuits. Sitting for long hours in front of computers or textbooks can lead to physical strain, stiffness, and poor posture among engineering students. Yoga helps counteract these effects by promoting better posture, spinal alignment, and overall physical fitness. Regular practice of yoga asanas can alleviate tension in the muscles and joints, reducing the risk of musculoskeletal issues and enhancing overall well-being. Engineering students often encounter setbacks, challenges, and failures in their academic pursuits. Yoga fosters mental resilience and adaptability by teaching students to embrace uncertainty, overcome obstacles, and bounce back from setbacks with greater ease. Breathing techniques and mindfulness practices can help students navigate academic stressors with a calm and balanced mindset. Engineering is a field that requires creativity and innovative thinking to solve complex problems and design novel solutions. Yoga practices stimulate the creative faculties of the mind, fostering divergent thinking, intuition, and problem-solving skills. By quieting the mind and tapping into inner creativity, engineering students can approach their studies with fresh perspectives and innovative ideas.

Objectives:

1. Yoga sessions often focus on improving physical fitness.
2. A key objective of many yoga sessions is to promote relaxation and reduce stress levels.

Outcomes: One of the immediate outcomes of a yoga session is physical relaxation. Yoga sessions are often designed to help reduce stress and induce a state of relaxation.
