Title: Recent trends and demand of IT industry.

Speaker: Dr. Shitalkumar Rawandale sir

Dean (PCET_NUTAN Central Placement Cell)

Date: 19-01-2019

Participants: BE computer

No. of participants: 45

Description:

Placement opportunities for computer engineering students can vary depending on factors such as recent technological trends, industry demand, and geographical location. With the increasing demand for technology-driven solutions, engineering students may find placement opportunities in technology companies specializing in software development, hardware design, electronics, telecommunications, and information technology. Engineering students can also explore placement opportunities through professional associations, industry networking events, career fairs, and online job portals, where they can connect with potential employers and explore job openings in their field of interest. It's essential for engineering students to proactively network, gain relevant experience through internships or co-op programs, and tailor their job search strategy to align with their career goals and aspirations

Objectives:

1. The primary objective is to connect students with potential employers and job opportunities that match their skills, qualifications, and career aspirations.
2. Provide workshops, seminars, and training programs aimed at developing essential employability skills such as communication, teamwork, leadership, problem-solving, and technical proficiency.

Outcomes: One of the primary outcomes is an increase in the number of students successfully placed in internships, co-op positions, or full-time employment opportunities relevant to their field of study.
